> Being rooted like trees in one place, Our brain foliage tossed Like the leaves of the trees that are caught By the four winds of braven, some thought Blows out of the world into space And seems lost.

We fret, the mind labors, heart bleeds; We believe and we fear. We believe and we hope, in a lie, Or a truth, or we doubt till we die, Purblindly examining creeds

To life we apply an inch rule
And to its bestower:
Each to self an infallible priest, Each struts to the top of the feast,

But fall'n like trees from our place-Our dead leaves are raked up for mould And some that were sun-ripe and gold, Blown out of the world into space, Are not lost.
